Day 8 – Assignment 3

✓ SQL Queries

1. write a query to find the product whose category is electronics

   - select * from product where category = 'electronics';

2. find all the product whose price range is between 5000 and 10000

   - select * from product where price between 5000 and 10000;

3. display name and price from product table.

   - select name, price from product;

4. display all the electronic category item which has price more than 2000

   - select * from product where category = 'electronics' and price > 2000;

5. sort the product based on price in descending order.

   - select * from product order by price desc;

6. sort the product based on name.

   - select * from product order by name;

7. count of product based on category.

   - select category, count(*) as product_count from product group by category;

8. display all the product except electronics category.

   - select * from product where category <> 'electronics';